SILVER MONEY.

The Duty of the Government Regarding Silver, Defined.

The Relative Value of Gold and Silver—Why Currency Should Be Withdrawn in Favor of the White Metal.

The Pacific coast has an interest in the relative value that silver shall maintain toward gold that may not wisely be ignored. We have produced large quantities of the least precious of the two metals in times past, and as long as our mountains and valleys shall endure, so long may silver production be expected to be a leading industry of the Pacific slope. The National Government should not discriminate against so leading an industry as that of silver-mining in this side of the Rocky Mountains. Those who have not reflected upon this subject may not see where the discrimination comes in, but it exists for all that. Everything that tends to make the demand for silver artificially less than it would naturally be, is a discrimination against its use, and is calculated to depreciate its value in the markets of the world. Of late years the product of silver has increased, whilst that of gold has rather fallen off. The tendency, therefore, is to widen the difference between the two metals. It may not be possible to completely check this tendency, although not a little can be done in that direction. The increasing demand of commerce for small currency, if properly cared for, would cause the circulation of some millions of small change that is now entirely represented by notes of a small denomination. There is, at this moment, some $45,000,000 worth of

CURRENCY NOTES
Of the National Government in circulation that are below the face value of two dollars each. No such state of affairs exists in any other country in the world. In England, for example, five dollars are made in silver. If that practice were to prevail in the United States, it follows that some $45,000,000 worth of silver, for which there is now no demand, would be in active circulation, and to that extent a market would be made for a leading product of the Pacific coast. When the Government interferes with the natural demand for silver by issuing fractional currency and notes of small denomination, it to that extent destroys the legitimate demand for one of the important products of the country, and to a like degree it discriminates against a home industry, which, to say the least, is a very inconsistent position in a country that has long made many sacrifices in order to build up an American system of business and enterprise. The silver producers of the Pacific coast have a right to say that if the Government cannot directly protect their interests by means of a tariff, as it protects the iron men of Pennsylvania, it ought, at any rate, to stand out of the way of the natural demand for silver, which would exist if the Government did not interfere in monetary affairs. If the national authorities did not put the stamp of their authority on fractional currency, the paper on which they are printed would be worthless, and would not pass current with anybody, and silver alone would be accepted for small amounts. It therefore comes to this—that the Government is employing its credit to drive a large amount of silver out of circulation, and to make it artificially plentiful. In doing that, it is assuming functions that do not rightfully belong to it, and it is furthermore engaging in a business

THAT IS DETRIMENTAL
To the best interests of an industry that already occupies a leading position, and that is destined to increase as the years roll round.

The manifest duty of this Government, having regard to the products of our mines, is to cause as large a demand for silver as possible. It should withdraw the smaller currency, and let the white metal assume its proper functions. Its duty to help silver to that extent is so clear as to be beyond the region of argument. There are directions in which it could go a good deal further, but for the purposes of this article we refrain from pursuing the question in all its ramifications. We content ourselves for the present by establishing the point that the Government should not drive some $45,000,000 of silver out of circulation by issuing mere paper promises in its place. The tendency of legislation should be in favor of increasing the demand for silver, and not in the direction of artificially reducing it. If that position is sound and unassailable, as we contend it is, then the policy of the new Secretary of the Treasury is not such as ought to be recommended to Congress and the country. He recommends that the silver certificates now outstanding, amounting to $66,000,000, should be called in, and the law authorizing their issue should be repealed, and he would also stop the coining of silver, which now amounts to $2,000,000 monthly, and he would continue the use of fractional paper currency as at present. This, of course, would lessen the demand for silver, and cause it to depreciate in value. Under that proposed condition of affairs it would speedily drop from its present selling rate of 51 1/2 pence per ounce, and it would probably touch a lower figure than has hitherto been known. A fall to 46 or 47 pence per ounce would close out a large amount of deep mining and low-grade ore-milling, and would cause widespread depression in the mining industries of the Pacific coast.

Sheriff Dinwiddie has made his round in Sonoma county, collecting taxes, with unexampled success, and less complaints from tax-payers than in any past year, except in respect to the seven per cent. added by the State Equalization Board to the Assessor's valuation, at which there is general remonstrance.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Vanderbilt will retire shortly. A $60,000 are in New Brunswick yesterday. Wheat is down to $1.50 at San Francisco. Dallas will be Gould's headquarters in Texas. A negro was killed at Reno, Texas, yesterday, in a row.

Cardinal Howard will succeed the late Cardinal Barremon. The Western Union has declared a dividend of 1 1/2 per cent.

Middleberger will be elected to the U. S. Senate from Virginia to-day. The Republicans elected their municipal ticket in Boston yesterday.

A murderer named Jennings was lynched at Austin, Texas, yesterday morning.

Express robbers relieved Wells, Fargo & Co.'s car of $5,000 Tuesday night near El Paso.

At Washington yesterday a large number of bills were introduced in both houses of Congress.

Allen Gowan, a waiter on the Bonita, was drowned between Los Angeles and San Diego the other day.

The Senate committee to whom was referred Logan's bill for placing General Grant on the retired list reported favorably yesterday.

Miss Evelyn Towne, daughter of A. N. Towne, was married last night at San Francisco to Charles N. Shaw, a mining man.

Postmaster General James is endeavoring to arrange for a further reduction in the time between New York and San Francisco.

Sensor Plumb yesterday introduced a bill into the Senate authorizing the President to enlist 25,000 men whenever a frontier exigency required it.

It is reported from Washington that two of the jurors in the Guitau case are disqualified by reason of their being at one time in the government employ.

The boardman of the Collins boys, noted train robbers of Texas, will have to sacrifice $50,000 bail, by reason of the escape of the robbers from jail, although they were afterwards killed by officers.

THE LEAGUE OF FREEDOM.

The great war upon the Sabbath breakers, waged under the provisions of the old act commonly known as the Sunday law, has developed a very peculiar organization in this State, called the League of Freedom. The League was originally instituted at San Francisco, where its Central Council is now located, but from that point it rapidly spread throughout the State, becoming intensely popular among all classes who were peculiarly effected by the rigid enforcement of the Sunday law. The aim of the society, as stated in its confidential circular, is "the mutual protection of its members and the advancement of their individual interests."

That this clause has made the desired impression is abundantly verified by the great and growing strength of the League, which now numbers thousands of active members in all parts of the State. The complete destruction of the Sunday law is undoubtedly the main object of the organization, as the following quotations from its circular will show:

"No doubt you are aware of the steps which are being taken in every county in this State to enforce the provisions of the so-called Sunday law, and compel the closing of business places generally."

"Believing that this illiberal and narrow-minded legislative enactment is an arbitrary and unjust measure, and one which will greatly interfere with our legitimate business pursuits, we have banded together for the purpose of mutual protection and the advancement of our individual interests, and have organized 'The League of Freedom' in the State of California."

GENERAL WALKER, the census man, says the population of the States of the Union is 47,371,340. With 293 representatives, the present number, this would give one representative to every 169,080 people. Under these figures the changes of representation in the 48th Congress would be as follows: Arkansas, California, Michigan, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia would gain one each; Minnesota and Nebraska would gain two each; Alabama, Illinois, Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio, Tennessee and Vermont would lose one each. The other states would have the same representation as at present.

The Pennsylvania petroleum wells are rapidly being pumped dry, and a serious question, in view of this condition of affairs, is suggested: Where is the future supply of oil to be produced? The discovery of the fluid on the Pacific Coast solves the problem. When Pennsylvania proves unequal to supplying the demand, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties, with their abundant streams of oil, will step in and fill the great gap, and the world will go on without any perceptible difference, only California will be vastly benefited by the change.

We are rapidly losing all faith in American institutions. After a series of Democratic reverses, beginning at San Francisco and ending at Virginia, cultured Boston has gone back on the grand old party of Thomas Jefferson and elected a full Republican ticket. The country is certainly drifting to the demotion bow-wow.

THE WIRE'S WORK.

Postmaster James and the Overland Mail Routes.

NEWS FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

A Big Batch of Bills Brought Before Both Branches of Congress—Texas Tickings Price Parity.

(Associated Press Dispatches.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Postmaster General James, on being interviewed this afternoon, said: I have not yet completed the arrangements for a new schedule of mail, but mean to remain here until I do. I hope, however, to leave on the 3:30 train to-morrow afternoon. What we are trying to do is to save time on the mails to the west, and also to arrange a through time table to San Francisco, so that a man in that city can answer a letter from this city on the same day he receives it. At present the train from this city arrives in San Francisco at 11:35 A. M., and the through train for the east leaves at 3:30 P. M. I hope to make an arrangement to have the train from the East arrive about an hour or an hour and a half earlier and the train to the East to leave about two hours later and make up those two hours in the run to this city.

CAPITAL CLATTER.

Sessions of the Senate and House—Washington, Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The following bills were introduced in the Senate to-day by Plumb: A bill amending Section 252 of the Revised Statutes; a bill providing for the issuance of gold certificates by substituting the word "directed" for "authorized," so as to make it mandatory on the Secretary to issue certificates upon deposits of gold coin and bullion; also a bill authorizing the President, whenever he thinks the exigency of the frontier requires it, to add 25,000 enlisted men to the army, to serve during such exigency, although in no case longer than one year.

Sensor Edmunds introduced a bill for the settling of private land claims in certain states and territories.

Beck brought up the subject of the Presidential succession and proceeded to illustrate urgency for immediate action.

The Senate committee directed a favorable report upon Saunders' bill to straighten the northern boundary line of Nebraska, on the line of the forty-third parallel. Also a favorable report on a bill to legalize the present legislature of New Mexico. Owing to non-compliance with an act of Congress the present legislature is not legal.

Logan, from the committee on military affairs, reported, with amendments, a bill to place General Grant on the army retired list. Maxey, of the committee, said the report was not unanimous, and that he would indicate his objections at the proper time.

THE HOUSE.

In the House over 750 new bills were referred to-day, including bills looking to the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, to establish an ocean mail service by means of mail subsidies, to appoint a tariff commission, and to retire trade dollars.

Committees of both houses on the memorial services in honor of President Garfield, were in joint session to-day for a day and hour for services in the capitol.

RULES OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

The President has adopted rules for the reception of visitors at the white house. The President reserves Saturdays and Sundays for himself, and on these days will receive no one. He will hold his first public reception on New Year's day.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Ex-Senator Paddock of Nebraska, will succeed Assistant Secretary Upton, who retires from the Treasury to-day.

Secretary Frelinghuysen will take charge of the state department next Monday.

Judge Advocate General Swain to-day submitted a revision of the Whittaker court-martial case to the Secretary of War. The verdict of the court will not be made public until the case is acted upon by the President.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—Wheat, declining; No. 1, $1.60; No. 2, $1.55 at 1.57 1/2.

A TOWNE STARTED.

Miss Evelyn Towne, daughter of A. N. Towne, General Superintendent of the Central and Southern Pacific Railroads, was married this evening at the Palace Hotel to Charles N. Shaw, a prominent mining man of this city. The ceremony and subsequent reception was the most brilliant social event of the season.

GOOD TIME.

The good times now prevailing in this city are indicated by an article which was published by the Bulletin this afternoon showing that the trade in holiday articles for the current month will reach fifteen hundred thousand dollars.

AFTERNOON STOCKS.

Curry, 5 1/2; Mexican, 11; Ophir, 6 1/2; Union, 16 1/2; Nevada, 11 1/2; Eureka, 12 1/2; Alpha, 12 1/2; Jacket, 8 1/2; Point, 1; Utah, 7 1/2; Belle, 10; Head Centre, 55c.

TEXAS TIDINGS.

The Usual Hatch of Criminalities—Gould's Texas Headquarters.

DALLAS, Dec. 14.—It is understood that Dallas, after Dec. 15th, will be headquarters for the Gould system in Texas; that F. Newman will be made the chief of Texas agents on the same date. The first through Pullman car from Dallas to St. Louis will leave on the fifteenth.

BEWILDERED BONDSMEN.

The authorities have levied for fifty thousand dollars upon the bondsmen for F. M. and Henry Collins, members of the Sam Bass gang of train robbers, who jumped their bail and were shot and killed by the officers while attempting to escape. The bondsmen hold that the killing of the men relieves them, and will fight the attempt to collect.

Express Messenger Robbed.

TUCSON, Dec. 14.—A special to the Citizen, dated at Deming, says: Wells, Fargo & Co.'s car was entered five miles west of El Paso last night. The agent, C. E. Bonard, was bucked and gagged, his keys were taken and the contents of the chest secured. The loss is between $2,000 and $3,000. The agent remained gagged some twenty minutes until relieved by a brakeman. The old style car is used, which affords no protection to the agent. It is a wonder more robberies are not committed near El Paso, as there is a notorious gang infesting that section now.

The Succession.

ROME, Dec. 14.—The Pope has named Cardinal Howard to succeed the late Cardinal Edward Borromeo.

THE TEDIOUS TRIAL.

The Guitau Case Dragging Slowly Along.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The case of Guitau was resumed this morning. The first witness called was Dr. John L. Withrow of Boston, pastor of Park-street Church. The witness said the prisoner desired to deliver a lecture in Withrow's church in answer to Ingersoll, but the witness declined to have the church used for that purpose. The witness observed Guitau during the winter at meetings and social gatherings of the church, and never saw the least indication of unsoundness of mind, but on the contrary thought he possessed unusual shrewdness. Correcting himself the witness added, "I should say this—Guitau, interrupting, 'What's the difference, Doctor?' Answer are the one means brighter than the other." Col. Corbhill, resuming, "And of large caliber." Guitau: "You didn't say that." Corbhill: "You must have slept well last night; that is the smartest thing you have said yet." The witness said the prisoner generally took part in discussions upon whatever subject might be under consideration and was always critical and accusative rather than conciliatory and kind.

The second witness called in the Guitau case was Henry G. Collier, an attorney of New York. On taking the stand Guitau shouted, "I remember you, Collier, the man that put up that Herald job on me." "Keep quiet," said Corbhill, "I will dispose of this man in short order. He brought suit against me to pay over certain money which the court ruled I should keep; that kills his evidence."

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—A Chicago Times Washington dispatch says: A sensational report this evening says that two jurors in the Guitau case are disqualified because it has been ascertained that they have been in the Government service.

Barrett, an old and respected citizen, the night before, without provocation. Jennings was taken out and hung from the balcony over the front door.

SUNNY SLOPE.

The Great Enterprise of Messrs. Stern & Rose.

The Largest Vineyard in the World—A Few Interesting Points About the Place—New Wine Cellar, Etc.

A few years ago it was a well attested fact, both in this portion of the State and in all parts where the grape is cultivated, that California grapes and wines were of but little intrinsic value. Many of the wine-growers of this section will remember that almost all viticulturists wanted to pull up their vineyards and plant the orange tree in its stead, but to-day the grapevine receives as much attention as did the olive tree in the days when Jesus of Nazareth walked the earth. If the reader would take the trouble to inspect some of the vineyards in this vicinity he would see, between the rows at regular intervals, young orange trees. He will ask "Why is this?" The answer is plain. The vines were paying something, but not enough; the owners believed, at that time to justify them in keeping their vineyards intact. Oranges were all the rage at that time and a number of fruit-growers set out orange trees in their vineyards, with the intention of pulling up the vines as soon as the trees began to bear. But now the grape pays much better than the orange, and the chances now seem to indicate that every tree that was planted in vineyards then will be pulled up to give room to the grape.

L. J. Rose, of the firm of Stern & Rose of the Sunny Slope vineyards has been the principal mover in the great advancement in the prices of the grape in this country. He was the founder of Sunny Slope twenty-one years ago. It now stands ahead of any vineyard in the world. The first vine was set out November 29th, 1869. There are 1,900 acres in the ranch; 735 acres in grape vines, the balance in orange, lemon and olive trees. The orange grove alone contains over 12,000 trees. The firm bought this year in addition to their own grape product, 9,468,676 lbs. of grapes, at prices ranging from $1 to $1.12 1/2 per hundred. The whole output in this particular equaling $84,889.38 during the season. They have made about 375,000 gallons of all kinds of wines, and nearly 100,000 gallons of brandy. This year their vines give promise of being better in quality than any previous season.

The new cellar recently constructed by the firm is a model cellar in every particular. It is 110 by 150 feet in dimensions, and is two stories high. The ground floor of the structure contains 48 new cases of a capacity of 2,100 gallons each, besides 800 pipes and puncheons of from 120 to 170 gallons each, all filled with this year's wine. A portion of the second story of the building is used for storing brandy in barrels, half barrels and kegs. The office of the establishment, which is located over the cellar, is a novelty in its way, and is an indicative of the remarkable prosperity enjoyed by the firm. It is handsomely finished in polished Port Orford cedar and California laurel. The furniture in the office is made of prime Mexican wood of great beauty and value. All the puncheons, pipes, barrels, etc., are manufactured on the ranch, and are brick from which the new cellar was built was burned on the ranch.

Messrs. Stern and Rose have branch houses in this city, New York, Chicago and Boston. None of these establishments are agencies, but virtually branches. The New York house is managed by Chas. Stern, the senior partner of the firm, who personally visits Boston and Chicago in the interests of the business at regular intervals. Since March 1st they have shipped from the vineyard to the Eastern houses 178 car loads of wine and brandy.

Sunny Slope is without doubt one of the largest and finest vineyards in the world. It is situated on one of the most beautiful spots on God's footstool, about two miles from the old Mission San Gabriel. It attracts general attention, and is probably visited by more strangers than any place of the kind in the State.

ABOUT TOWN.

The orange is beginning to look golden, and the crop gathering will soon begin.

The ladies of the Baptist church will give one of their gift and musical entertainments at Good Templar's Hall this evening.

The corner stone of the new Normal school will be laid next Saturday at 2 p. m., under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge of this city.

It is evidently preparing to rain, as rain clouds loomed up in the west, and a night and gladdened the heart of the anxious farmer.

Three small dog fights, and 314 patent medicine cranks howling for gulls to be gulled were the only items of interest noted by the Times man yesterday.

The old man whose name appeared in this paper as a madman yesterday says she hopes the Times will not be in such a hurry; she has a plenty of time.

If any person has any coins or curiosities that they would like to have deposited in the corner store of the Normal School they can be accommodated by leaving them with J. R. Briery or the Superintendent at the grounds.

C. A. Levasse of the New York Graphic, is in town. He is at the Cosmopolitan.

C. Brodbeck formerly of St. Louis, but now of San Diego, is at the Cosmopolitan.

Col. Otis and party will leave for Lower California this morning, to be gone several weeks.

A Small Blase.

An alarm was turned in last night from box "9214" at 9:30 o'clock. The boys were on the double-quick and made things lively on Main street for a few moments. When they arrived at the store-maid box they learned that the cause of the disturbance was the burning of the White Elephant sign. The theatre folks got up too much gas, hence the small blaze. Three minutes after the alarm every man, woman and child in the town was on the streets. The damage was very light.

A Runaway.

About 2:30 this afternoon a team, belonging to a countryman, broke loose from a hitching-post opposite the Pico House, and started "go-as-you-please" down Main street. In turning the corner at the Baker Block it collided with a peanut vending establishment, doing but little damage, however.

A BODIE JOURNALIST.

The Man Who Owned a Paper That Made $5,000 a Day.

He was a bad man from Bodie. He was a newspaper man. He had traveled, and he didn't know could be placed in a very small nutshell. He strayed into the Times office the other day and borrowed the foreman's left ear for fourteen hours. The foreman is an old newspaper man. He was born in the business; that is, he was born near a printing office while his parents were away from home, and when they returned to see their first-born, they found him setting up a three-column editorial. But to return to the Bodie man. He was glad he met some one who would listen to him, and he saw at once that the foreman had a kind eye.

"It 'pears to me," said he, "that you fellows have got a good paper, but it ain't nothin' to the paper I've got in Bodie." "What kind of a paper have you got there?" asked the foreman.

"What kind of a paper? Didn't you never hear of it? Why is the best town in the world for a good, live paper. Before we'd been running six hours we were takin' in $3,000 a day on advertisements. Oh, yes, that's a good town for papers. Our subscription list numbered 8,018, and every name on it was a prominent citizen, a clergyman, or a justice of the peace. I tell you what, we were just makin' money too fast."

I suppose you have come down here to buy Los Angeles county for a country seat?

"No, not exactly. I am just lookin' round, you know. The fact is I don't own that paper now."

How is that? What did you sell out for?

"Well, you see, the man I bought the office from got jealous and thought he could run the shebang better than I could, so he got the sheriff to notify me that he wanted to be editor."

"That's too bad; I've been there myself and I can feel for you."

"I'm glad you understand the thing. But can't you let me have two bits till tomorrow? The banks have closed and I forgot to draw this afternoon. You see I'm in rather a delicate position. I have invited Governor Downey to take dinner with me and I never break an engagement."

He got the sheriff and the foreman got rid of the boro in short order. But he lost faith in Bodie first-class journalists later in the day, when he saw the great man taking three sidewalks and a half section of Main street in his orderings to ward the police station. He was not with Governor Downey, but he was accompanied by a nobby public official, who expects to be Governor some day.

To Lay the Corner Stone.

F. A. Gibson, Grand Master of the Pentapolis Lodge No. 202, F. and A. M., of this city, has been appointed by Grand Master Taylor to represent the Grand Lodge, and to convene that body of this city at 1 p. m., Saturday, December 17th, to lay the corner stone of the new Normal school building. The following Grand officers were appointed to assist: Frank A. Gibson, G. M.; H. S. Orme, D. G. M.; Theodore Reiser, S. G. W.; George Hinds, J. G. W.; Rev. A. W. Edelman, G. Chaplain; Chas. Smith, G. Sec.; M. J. Bundy, G. Treas.; W. W. Robinson, S. G. D.; J. W. Venable, J. G. D.; Peter Penfold, G. Steward; J. H. Bickell, G. Steward; Geo. Stephens, G. Tyler; Chas. Prager, G. Standard Bearer, and L. C. Goodwin, G. Sword Bearer.

A Crank's Cure.

There was a pain-killer crank of the patent medicine order holding forth to the unweaned multitudes under the Times office last night, when he asked, "Is there a man in this crowd with a headache?" Before he was through with his lecture every member of the Times staff had his head bound up with a handkerchief, enduring the disease the crank professed to cure in all its excruciating glory and grandeur.

An Indian Maiden's Muse.

An Indian maiden of gentle nature and kind disposition got on a street jam night before last, and made it lively for the police force. On her way to the lock-up she howled and made forcible all the swear words in her own and the Mexican languages. She was before the city criminal court yesterday and got twenty-five days for being funny. Lol! the poor injin.

Too Much Wine.

Judge Adams had a pretty lively time with his drunks, etc., yesterday. The following high-toned gentlemen got nine days in the chain gang for drinking too much California wine: Charles Brown, Daniel Gill, R. Porter, Henry Bennett and William Chandler.

A Committee Meeting.

The Committee of the Sunday Closing Association met last evening and divided itself into sub-committees to wait upon business men and request them to agree to close on Sundays.

A FRENCHMAN'S FIND.

He Discovers a Means of Working Dry Diggings.

An old shaft, a hopper and a Pot of Quicksilver all that is necessary to reap a Golden Harvest.

Colonel Smith, a civil engineer, and party passed through this place yesterday from Arizona, where he has been prospecting for the past few months.

In a conversation with a Times reporter he told of a wonderful discovery recently made by an old Frenchman in the Territory. It seems that the Colonel was prospecting in the mountains near Castle Dome, about thirty miles from Yuma, when he stumbled on a camp in a canon. On nearer approach he came across an old Frenchman throwing sand in a hopper. The old man had prospected all over the country and finally picked out this spot and SUNK A SHAFT.

Some eighteen feet, when he came to the conclusion that it would not pay him to sink any further. About this time he discovered that the sand on his claim was very rich in gold dust. But he was twelve or fourteen miles from water, and could do nothing with this valuable dirt. He did not give up, however. He remembered a lesson he learned in chemistry and went to work. A large iron pot was procured and placed at the bottom of the half-finished shaft. A hopper was then secured over the mouth of the shaft. From the hopper a pipe was run down into the pot. Then he filled the pot about two-thirds full of quicksilver and went to shoveling the sand into the hopper. The sand, falling through the pipe into the pot, would be pressed into the quicksilver by the weight of the sand in the hopper, and then over the sides of the pot, thus keeping up a continual stream from the hopper to the pot. As the sand reaches the quicksilver it scatters, and in making its way to the surface the gold must necessarily amalgamate.

REHOLD THE MACHINE.

1. Pipe.
2. Pot.
3. Quicksilver.
It is a well-known fact in chemistry that gold will sink or amalgamate when placed in quicksilver, but any other material placed under the surface of this metal will force its way to the top. Hence the old man's success in his new gold cleaning apparatus.

The Colonel stated that the greatest difficulty encountered by the hermit was to get the sand out of the shaft. He said that the old man was making from thirty to fifty dollars per day. The Colonel is now on his way to San Francisco to purchase several pots, etc. He has located a number of claims and proposes to go into the business on a large scale. One of the party, C. T. Norton, is now at the Cosmopolitan. This discovery gives promise of being of much benefit to miners in Arizona, as there is a vast portion of the territory covered with dry diggings that will pay big money if this new process proves a success.

Gone South.

The examination of R. Pico, who took a free ride on a horse the other day, and forgot to return the said horse to its owner, of whom he also embezzled thirty dollars, was to have taken place before Judge Adams yesterday, but the defendant failed to put in appearance at the proper time. His bondsmen, who were foolish enough to go on his bond $250 worth for each case, will make a deposit of $500 with the city treasurer, if the fellow is not caught in a few days. He has gone South instead of "West."
